By Willard Jones

REV. SAM J. KING recently has developed a greatly increased appetite for turnips—probably only because he has had a lot of turnips turned up his way. It comes about like this:

One of the members of the County Line Baptist Church, northwest of Rotan, of which he is the pastor, has more than an acre of the tubers in the Brazos River bottoms that have really done well this year.

"They're mighty good eating for poor folks," the preacher will tell you, "and they'll keep a fellow's belt buckle from rubbing his back-bone, too."

Preacher King was displaying some of the prize turnips in town, first of the week. He had one that weighed more than eight pounds, and another that balanced the scales at about six pounds. He said his member gardener had turnips of all sizes, and had really made a bountiful crop this year due to the fine rains of the past several months.

ESAU WOOD was particularly particular about the kind of saw he used with which to saw wood, the old story goes. In fact, here's a complete story of the old story:

There was once a man named Esau Wood who liked to saw wood and all the wood Esau Wood saw Esau Wood would saw. Usually Wood would saw wood, but one day Wood's wood saw would saw no wood and thus the wood sawed was not the good wood Wood would saw if Wood's wood saw would saw wood.

So Esau sought a saw that would saw wood. Finally one day Esau saw a saw saw wood as no other wood saw would saw wood. In fact, of all the wood saws Wood saw saw that would saw wood as the wood saw Wood saw would saw.

So he bought it.

AFTER-THOUGHTS more than often are better than quick judgment that most of exercise. Things would be a more pleasant in this old world if we used some thought before we speak or act. To illustrate:

If I thought that a word of mine Perhaps unkind and untrue, Would leave its trace on a loved one's face, I'd never speak it— Would you?

If I thought that a smile of mine Might linger the whole day thru And lighten some heart with a heavier part, I'd not withhold it— Would you?

A HAMLIN WOMAN of undetermined age was consulting an Abilene doctor who had recommended a course of solarium treatments. To dispel her nervousness, the consultant told her:

"Why, a few weeks of that and you'll be 10 years younger."

"Oh, dear," wailed the lady, "it won't affect my pension, will it?"

C. P. Amersons Remember Furnishing Home for $125 After Wedding in 1907

Following celebration of their golden wedding anniversary Sunday at their home east of Hamlin, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Amerson were recalling early this week some of the events and conditions of the earlier times. The couple were as alert and spry as ever, and both agreed that if they had it to do over again they were be delighted with the same companions.

C. P. Amerson and Eva Lee Turner were married on December 4, 1907, about three miles from Itasca in Hill County, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Turner. Performing the ceremony was Rev. James A. Ruffner, early day pastor of the Itasca Methodist Church.

Young Amerson had been "keeping company" with Miss Turner for several years back in Hill County. His family had moved to the Tuxedo community in 1902, buying property near the present site of the Amerson home. The elder Amersons paid $10 an acre for their land, which was considered some of the best in this West Texas region.

After helping his folks farm for a few years, he announced his plans to make a home of his own and built a small home for his proposed bride about half a mile west of the present Amerson residence. Then he went back to Itasca and got his bride.

After the ceremony on a Sunday afternoon, the young couple boarded a Texas Central train for Waco where they caught another train bound for Tuxedo. They arrived here about 10:00 o'clock the next day after an all-night train trip. Incidentally there were four passenger trains a day operated between Waco and Rotan 50 years ago, the Amersons recalled, and the railroad did a good business in those days.

The young couple purchased a complete housekeeping outfit for about $125, they recalled, including wood burning stoves and kerosene lamps.

"We've worked side by side all these 50 years," declared Mrs. Amerson, "going to the fields together and sharing the responsibilities of a young family."

The couple lost a daughter, Lorene, at the age of 19 in 1928. They moved to their present home in 1916, which was built by T. E. Shelburne of Hemleigh, who was among attendants at the fiftieth wedding anniversary.

Open House Slated Sunday for First Baptist SS Annex

Open house for the public to visit the new $60,000 educational building of the First Baptist Church has been set for Sunday afternoon, according to the pastor, Rev. Calvin Bailey.

Hours for the open house will be from 3:00 till 5:00 o'clock, during which period members of the congregation will show visitors through the recently completed structure. Complete new furnishings and air conditioning equipment are contained in the new edifice, which is connected to the southeast corner of the church sanctuary.

The two-story brick veneer educational building will provide three assembly and classroom areas for the cradle roll and nursery departments on the first floor. On the second floor are three assembly and 19 classrooms for junior and intermediate departments.

The entire membership of the First Baptist Church welcome all of their friends and neighbors of Hamlin and surrounding communities and towns to tour the building, Bailey says.

$113.34 Raised for Hamlin Aid Fund At Union Service

Despite the fact that many Hamlin area people had already left town for various Thanksgiving celebrations elsewhere, a good sized crowd of people attended the union Thanksgiving service conducted last Wednesday evening at the First Baptist Church. The union service is an annual affair sponsored by the Hamlin Ministerial Alliance.

The message of the evening was delivered by Rev. Edmund C. Robb, pastor of the First Methodist Church. Other pastors of the city acted as ushers and took the offering.

The offering, which amounted to $113.34, will be used by the Alliance to help indigent people of the community and transients who ask for assistance. The fund is administered by a committee of business men and representatives from the alliance.

Christmas Lights Go Up in City Last Week

Colored Christmas lights went up in Hamlin last Wednesday in downtown Hamlin. The lights, property of the Hamlin Chamber of Commerce, were put up under the sponsorship of the Business and Professional Women's Club, which has sponsored the project the past two years.

No Milk Price Drop Seen by Grocymen

Grocymen in Hamlin first of the week declared there was no indication that milk prices would be reduced here in face of reductions that were posted over the week-end in Dallas and Fort Worth.

Most Hamlin stores have been retailing milk at 47 cents per half gallon carton, with one brand selling at some stores at 44 cents.

In Dallas and Fort Worth this week half gallons were selling for 38 cents at retail and gallons at 75 cents.

Plans Reviewed By State Board of Water Engineers

Hamlin civic leaders still have not lost hope that this area will be included in a dam project on the Double Mountain Fork of the Brazos River, north of Hamlin. This hope was expressed this week as further talk of the multiple-purpose dam was being carried further by the Brazos River Valley Authority, with headquarters at Mineral Wells.

Two years ago a committee was named by the Hamlin Chamber of Commerce to investigate feasibility of a dam and lake on the river some 10 or 12 miles northwest of Hamlin. The committee hired Freese & Nichols, engineering firm of Fort Worth, to make surveys, and the concern reported a dam is feasible. Since the demise of the Chamber of Commerce no work has been done toward carrying through. The proposed new Hamlin Board of Community Development is expected to take up the project.

Hamlin Region Farmers to Vote At Farmers Gin

Hamlin area cotton growers, along with those of the rest of the Cotton Belt, will go to the polls next Tuesday to vote on the cotton marketing quota referendum.

Jones County voters have in the past approved the quotas by about 70 per cent. The vote throughout the Cotton Belt has been around 90 per cent each year.

The nation's cotton producers, by their votes in the December 10 cotton marketing quota referendum, will determine whether quota penalties will apply and also the level of price supports for 1958 crop cotton. Therefore, reminds Chairman R. G. Shrauner of the Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, the referendum is of vital concern to every cotton grower.

If at least two-thirds of the votes cast in the referendum favor marketing quotas, the program will be operative for next year's crop, explains Shauner. Too, price support will be available to growers who comply with their farm allotments for the 1958 crop of upland cotton at a level between 75 and 90 per cent of parity, and quota penalties will apply on any "excess" cotton. If more than one-third of the votes are against quotas, there would be no quota penalties and the price support level to eligible growers would drop to 50 per cent of parity.

The chairman points out that, even if quotas are disapproved, acreage allotments will remain in effect as a means of determining eligibility for price support. All farmers who were engaged in the production of upland cotton in 1957 will be eligible to vote in the referendum, and Shauner urges them to do so. He also says that if growers have questions they would like answered, they should visit the ASC office in their county.

Polling place for the Hamlin area farmers in Jones County will be at the Hamlin Farmers Cooperative Gin in the southeast part of town.

Three Baptized After Central Baptist Meet

Three new members were baptized at the conclusion of revival services that were concluded last Sunday evening at the North Central Avenue Baptist Church, reports Rev. Woodrow McHugh, the pastor. Two other members were received by letter.

Doing the praching in the eight-day series of revival services was Rev. Jake Armstrong, pastor of the Hawley Baptist Church. Rev. Armstrong previously was pastor of the McCauley Baptist Church.

Farm Bureau Convention Approves Resolution Asking Stop of Regulation

Delegates to the Texas Farm Bureau convention November 17 to 20 in Dallas approved a resolution calling for the gradual elimination of governmental regulation of individual farming operations.

The sessions, held at Dallas, were attended by five representatives from Jones County, including C. E. Gregory and wife of Hamlin.

New officers elected included J. H. (Harrell) West of Bishop, president, replacing J. Walter Hammond of Tye. C. H. DeVaney of Coahoma was named to the vice presidency vacated by West. Edwin Sanderson of Paris was elected secretary-treasurer, replacing Loys D. Barbour of Iowa Park. New directors voted in by delegates included D. M. Womble of Morse, Glenn Mettauer of Chireno and A. C. Machemehl of Bellville.

In their business session the 609 voting delegates from 140 counties approved a recommendation to the national convention on cotton which would give growers a choice in the annual referenda the following: (1) 75 per cent of parity supports and 20 per cent more acreage; (2) present acreage and 90 per cent of parity; and (3) no acreage restrictions, no price supports.

The delegates, by their actions, said the principles of the soil bank are sound, but that the present soil bank program does not accomplish its full intent. They called for a total acreage retirement program under which the percentage of cropland retired would be determined by the percentage of overall over-production of all farm commodities.

In the field of research, the voting delegates called for research to be directed toward (1) industrial uses of agricultural commodities; (2) expansion of markets by promoting better nutrition; (3) lowering production and marketing costs; (4) improving quality of agricultural products.

Look on the Other Side

The young daughter was very boisterous, and her father wanted it quiet, so he could read. He clipped a large war map from the paper, tore it up into bits like a jigsaw puzzle, and told his daughter to sit down and put the map together again. This, he thought, would keep her occupied for several hours.

The little girl was delighted and took the handful of torn paper. In just a little while she was back, the map all neatly arranged and perfectly put together. "See here, Daddy: here it is!" she shouted, as she ran up to him with the map on a magazine.

Her father was much surprised. "Well, how in the world did you do it so quickly?" he asked.

"Well, you see," she replied, "there is a big picture of a man on the other side, and so I just put him together and turned it over. You see, Daddy, if the man is right, the world comes out all right, too."

Happiness Is Mental

One of the secrets of life which we must all learn before it is too late is that happiness is not the result of material things but a mental achievement.

You have probably often seen people who are in the most humble circumstances who are completely happy, who get much out of life and much out of people. No doubt you have also encountered those who have almost limitless sources of money but who are not happy, who are continuously chasing rainbows and who have few friends and get very little out of life.

It is true that money does not necessarily bring happiness. A great many wealthy men will admit that the richer they became the less serene and the less fruitful their lives became.

In summary, the lesson of life is to learn to be happy with what nature has endowed us. We need not be the richest man or woman in our community, nor do we have to have great riches at all. If we are intelligent enough to be thankful for all the things we have (and all of us have many things) and get as much out of life as we can as we go along, we can be happy regardless of the extent of our material wealth.

There is no truer truth obtainable by man than comes of music.—Robert Browning

Bible Study Is Uplifting

There are many great people in the world who do not believe everything that is in the Bible. There are others who take every word and punctuation mark literally and attempt to live a life strictly within the confines of what they consider to be the Bible's rigid teaching.

We have no quarrel with either philosophy. The main purpose of our writing is that we think the Bible holds great possibilities for every citizen. One need not be of any particular denomination nor need he be of any particular creed.

The Bible has enough good logic, good sense and inspiration to attract and benefit all whether they be Christians or not. We sometimes overlook the fact that the Bible contains a great source of happiness and peace of mind for those who are troubled and confused in the fast pace of life today.

The old custom of reading the Bible periodically is not followed by many Americans today. However, we suggest you take your Bible off the shelf each night, or as often as you can, and read something from it. You will be surprised—or you will have brought to your memory—the value of the Bible and its teachings.

Editorial of the Week

END COSTLY FEDERAL BUSINESS

If further progress is to be made in budget, debt and tax reduction, the government must curb even more sharply its competition with private enterprise, not only in public power but in business type and service activities.

The Hoover Commission found that the Department of Defense alone operated more than 2,500 specific business enterprises. At least 1,000 of these, said the commission, could be terminated without in any way impairing the national security program. The administration has already closed many, and plans to discontinue or curtail more—automobile repair shops, bakeries, cobbler shops, laundries, office equipment repair shops, tree nurseries, and so on.

Perpetuation of unnecessary federal business type enterprises ignores this year's unprecedented citizen demand for thrift in government. Congress must cooperate in this effort, by helping to end or curb activities that rightfully belong to private enterprise, it can reduce the cost of government and pave the way for further debt and tax reduction.—Grit including many multiple-purpose reservoirs, has been reviewed before the State Board of Water Engineers by the BRA. Multiple-purpose dams are those that provide flood control, water conservation, sometimes power generation and almost always recreation and other benefits.

The report filed with the state board—at one of a series of meetings the board has been holding with river authorities—is actually a summary of the Brazos River Authority's master plan for development of the Brazos and its tributaries, brought up-to-date. It contains elements of the river's over-all development plan conceived since the original master plan was approved by the Board of Water Engineers in 1935.

"Since the original master plan was devised," the authority's statement said in explaining the need for this new summary, "many additional basic data have been obtained, and the authority has caused extensive engineering studies to be made of potentials of both the original and additional projects.

"Further, the state's economic development and population have increased in the 22 years since the original report, and also the federal government assumed flood control obligations in 1936. Today water conservation is just as important as flood control in the current master plan, if not more so.

"The authority believes that this plan takes full advantage of the topography of the watershed by placing the necessary projects at the most practical and economic locations."

MAKING PILGRIMAGE—Mrs. Manuela R. Carreon, 46, of Texas City, checks a newspaper account of the 387-mile trip she is making on foot from Galveston to San Juan, in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Mrs. Carreon is making the trip to fulfill a vow she made during prayers for her son's acquittal on a murder charge. She started the trip alone, carrying a paper bag containing medicine and 25 cents, a half hour after the jury returned a verdict freeing her son.

Marking of Mackenzie Trail, Which Once Crossed This Section, Started

Proper marking with a series of monuments of the old Mackenzie Trail that traversed this section of West Texas is being begun by the Mackenzie Trail Memorial Association. It is announced by Bernard Bule, official of the organization.

First of the monuments will soon be placed in southern Haskell County, just north of Stamford at the intersection of U. S. Highways 277 and 380, Bule declares in a release to The Herald.

Old Reynolds City, some 10 miles northeast of Hamlin, was a main point on a buffalo hide depot on the Mackenzie Trail. It was on the late Prinkle Moore Ranch.

During the past session of the Texas Legislature a resolution was passed by both houses of the legislature. The legislation was handled by Representatives Moyné Kelly, Ed Cloud and Bob Patterson and Senators David Ratliff out that final selection of certain sites might make others unnecessary or unfeasible.

and Charles Moffett, all of whose districts are crossed or touched by the Mackenzie Trail.

The resolution, which contains considerable historical information, follows:

Whereas, General Randall Silldell Mackenzie, a United States Cavalry officer, blazed a trail through Northwest Texas between 1871 and 1876 in a series of campaigns which removed warring bands of Indians from Texas; and

Whereas, the exploits of General Mackenzie in the vicinity of Tule and Palo Duro and Blanco Canyons represent the last major Indian fights in the Lone Star state; and

Whereas, following the path first taken by General Mackenzie in pursuit of Kiowa and Comanche Indians, courageous early settlers and cattlemen soon were able to turn the Texas plains into productive farms and ranches; and

Whereas, the Mackenzie Trail, which once was as famous as the Chisholm Trail and the Butterfield Stage Route, should be remembered by all modern Texans; and

Whereas, to commemorate the signal accomplishments of General Mackenzie and the courageous men and women who followed his route, the public spirited citizens of Haskell County, Jones County, Dickens County, Crosby County and other counties in West Texas are engaged in organizing the Mackenzie Trail Memorial Association; and

Whereas, organizers of the Mackenzie Trail Memorial Association have secured the permission of the Texas Highway Department to erect a marker, at no cost to the state, near the intersection of U. S. Highways 277 and 380 in Haskell County; and

Whereas, the placing of additional markers is planned in the future at other points along the Mackenzie Trail by the association; and

Whereas, the Mackenzie Trail Memorial Association is coordinating its efforts with the Texas Highway Department, the Texas State Historical Survey Committee, and the West Texas Historical Association; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, by the Texas House of Representatives, the Senate concurring, that congratulations are hereby extended to the members and supporters of the Mackenzie Trail Memorial Association; and be it further

Resolved, that this effort to perpetuate the memory of a significant part of Texas' colorful history is considered highly commendable.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Amersons Honored At Open House on Golden Anniversary

Nearly 300 relatives and friends Sunday registered at the fiftieth wedding anniversary celebration of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Amerson Sunday afternoon despite the fact that many more were out of the territory for the Thanksgiving week-end.

The open house for the pioneer couple was held at the home east of Hamlin, with Mr. and Mrs. John C. Bryant of Hamlin acting as hosts for the occasion. Mrs. Bryant is an only child of the couple.

The Amerson home was appropriately decorated for the fiftieth anniversary with many reminders of the period when the couple became man and wife. In the receiving line were Mrs. Guy White of Killean, Mrs. John C. Bryant, Mrs. Amerson, John C. Bryant and the Bryant's daughter, Cindy.

Mrs. Amerson was dressed in a cadet blue satin brocade dress with blue jewelry imported from France.

In the dining room were Mrs. E. A. Reed of Vernon, Mrs. Hubert Westfall of Eastland, May Gay of Hamlin, Charlene White of Killean and Betty Westfall of Abilene.

Directing guests to the register in the bedroom were Hubert Westfall of Eastland, Guy White of Killean, Mrs. R. B. Bryant of Stamford registered the guests. In the bedroom greeting Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Compton of Stamford, Mrs. Compton is a daughter of Mrs. Amerson. R. Bryant of Stamford and

Dr. E. A. Reed of Vernon said the good-byes.

The serving table was laid with a Madiera cut cloth over a yellow table cloth. Center of attention on the table was an antique horse and buggy gilded in gold that held a miniature bride and groom. The bride wore an exact replica of Mrs. Amerson's wedding dress of 50 years ago. The original dress was displayed on a form in the room.

From the coffee table punch, cake squares and nuts were served to attendants. On this table was one of the original wedding invitations.

On another coffee table were a pair of ladies' high top shoes that were in style 50 years ago that had been gilded. Yellow chrysanthemums also decorated the table and other portions of the Amerson home. Another arrangement of flowers was on the desk in the back bedroom at the registry, where a miniature 1907 Ford and kerosene lamp furnished a timely setting.

Many flowers, cards and telegrams were sent to the honorees. Attendees registered from Itasca, Hillsboro, Fort Worth, Eastland, Killean, Vernon, Sweetwater, Abilene, Wichita Falls, Hermleigh, Ballinger, Morton, Winters, San Angelo and Albany, Texas; Syracuse, New York; Lovington, Albuquerque and Hobbs, New Mexico.

Another story about some highlights of the Amerson marriage and early times is found on page one of today's Herald.

Music Pupils Give Program Tuesday For Lions Club

A musical program by pupils of Mrs. L. B. Baker provided the program Tuesday at noon at the regular weekly meeting of Hamlin Lions Club at the oil mill guest house.

Announced by Mrs. Baker, the following numbers were presented: Linda Bingham played "Valcick;" Lana Claude Lancaster presented "Convent Bells;" and David Bingham sang "Ivey Rose," accompanied by his sister, Linda. Then a piano duet, "Glow Worm," was rendered by Carol Jo Simpson and Lana Claude Lancaster. Georgia Fitzgerald completed the program with a rendition of "I've Heard That Song Before."

Announcement was made that a musical program by students from McMurry College at Abilene will highlight the program next Thursday evening at the semi-annual ladies' night of the Lions Club. The affair will be at the Primary School cafeteria, and no regular meeting of the club will be held next Tuesday noon.

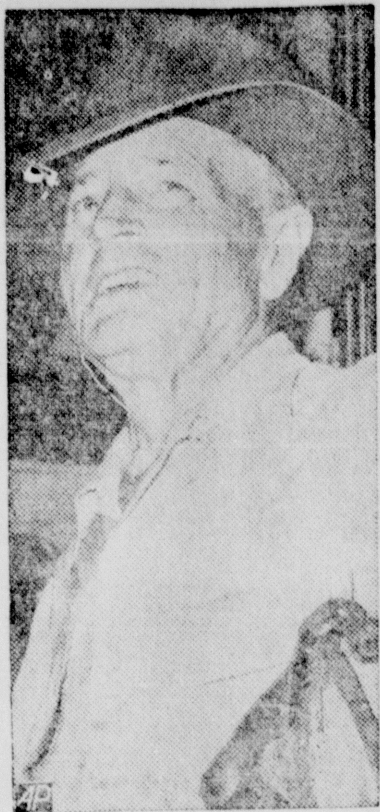

Besides Mrs. Baker and her pupils, other guest at the Tuesday luncheon was Lion Kenneth Newman of Coleman.

U. S. Savings Bonds Sales 65% of 1957 Goal for County

Nathan Adams, state chairman, Ed Gossett, state co-chairman of the U. S. savings bonds committee for Texas, announced today $14,236,015 in Series E and savings bonds were purchased in the October in Texas.

The total amount of these savings bonds purchased during the month period is $141,725,997," Ed Gossett. "In order to reach the state's goal for the year, another $31,774,003 in savings bonds must be purchased during November and December. We feel confident that Texas will make the 1957 goal, for Christmas shopping traditionally begins the day after Thanksgiving and numerous bonds will be purchased for gifts. We are ready for these Christmas gift shoppers this year with a new, streamlined, if not jet propelled Series E savings bond, and a new gift envelope to fit its smaller size. The envelope bears the label that is now traditional for savings bonds: 'The Gift that Keeps on Giving.' On the reverse side is a space for an inscription: 'To _____ from _____. And the slogan: A Gift Today for a Bright Tomorrow.' These new envelopes may be secured from local banks at the time the gift bonds are purchased," he added.

Bond sales in Jones County for the 10-month period amounted to $390,812. This is 65 per cent of the 1957 goal, according to A. C. Humphrey of Stamford, chairman of Jones County sales.

Humphrey pointed out that savings bonds are equally suitable and welcome as gifts for any occasion, from the birth of a child through successive birthdays, graduation and wedding anniversaries, as well as for Christmas and year-end bonuses, incentive and performance awards—"anything" that calls for a "Present with a Future," Humphrey advised.

License and Weight Fees Add to State And County Funds

More than a million and a half dollars was added to county and state treasuries last year as a result of the activities of the license and weight division of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

The function's annual report for the fiscal year ending August 31 shows that $1,675,370 was collected in fines and additional registration fees and paid into state and county coffers as a result of cases filed during the fiscal year for violations of Texas trucking laws.

A larger percentage of the money, assessed in 27,695 cases filed by the license and weight division against truck operators, went into road and bridge funds of the various counties throughout Texas.

Violations include such items as trucks and equipment being over the maximum size allowed by law, over-loaded trucks, traffic violations and truck registration violations. Most of the laws affecting truckers is directed at protecting Texas highway and motorists on our highways.

Largest number of cases filed was 5,483 for over gross weight; 5,046 cases were filed for failure to have a Texas Railroad Commission permit. This was opposite the situation for the preceding year when failure to have railroad commission permits was the No. 1 violation.

Crops in Santa Fe Areas Suffer Because Of Wet Weather

Picking of cotton, harvest of sorghum and digging of peanuts have all been delayed because of the damp weather during much of the last month, observes the monthly crop condition report of the Santa Fe Railway System for Texas.

Losses from freezing temperatures early in November may be heavy in late fields on the High Plains, and damage to cotton already open is showing up in lowered quality. Soft ground and high moisture content have kept combines idle much of the time since the grain sorghum crop matured. A few farmers are reporting damage to peanuts not dug because of sprouting.

Wheat continues excellent progress in all producing territories.

Friendship and Business

IT'S no strain for any business man ... city or home-town ... to be friendly when he sees you coming with money to spend.

Some of us ... a little cynical, perhaps, about the way we're often greeted with a synthetic and profit-prompted friendliness when we act like a customer in some strange store ... may conclude that business and real friendship will never mix. But they will. And they do ... every day, in thousands of small towns like ours.

Knowing each other outside our places of business, working together for community improvement, in churches, schools and other groups, sharing the community load, helping each other in time of trouble ... makes it inevitable that each of us can better and more understandingly serve the other in business.

Of all the business establishments in the world—only those in Hamlin are sincerely interested in the future of Hamlin and in the future of YOU who live here ...

"IT WAS A NICE TRY, BUT..." seems to sum up public opinion about competitive cars attempting to equal the styling and features of the Swept-Wing 58. They tried to get as low, but had to lower the roof to do it. (Less headroom, same high, boxy, cooped-up look.) Their windshields got smaller, while ours got bigger. Most of them still don't have Total-Contact Brakes to assure smooth, even, safe stops when needed. Nor do they offer push-button TorqueFlite, the proven automatic transmission, and Constant-Control power steering that works full time—not part time as some other systems do. And Dodge no-sway, no-dip Torsion-Aire is standard equipment. (Bus-type air springs offered by some cars cost well over $100.00 extra.) So compare all the 1958 models with Dodge. We think you'll agree: Other cars are catching on, but they can't catch up.

Seymour Stays in Grid Race With Lockney Win 27-6

Fullback Eddie Syptak turned Seymour's first play of the game into a 56-yard scoring scamper and the Panthers, District 4-AA champions, never lost their lead as they handed the Lockney Longhorns a 27 to 6 defeat last Friday afternoon at Snyder.

Seymour will play McCamey Saturday afternoon in the state quarter-finals at Seymour. Game time will be 2:30 o'clock.

After the extra point was booted by Halfback Larry Martin, Lockney came back strong to score a touchdown to make the quarter end with the score at 7 to 6.

The Longhorns were unable to score any more the balance of the game. Seymour managed to put over three more touchdowns and missed only one extra point.

Seymour received the second half kick-off and pushed 65 yards in 19 plays to score another six-pointer. Billy Ryan made the last nine yards for the touchdown, dragging a Lockney tackler the last 10 feet.

With less than five minutes left in the game Seymour ran over two more touchdowns for good measure and both the extra points were booted by Martin.

Statistically Seymour outlasted Lockney. The Panthers made 13 first downs to six for the Longhorns. Seymour made 214 yards rushing to 133 for Lockney, and completed four of nine passes for 61 yards to one pass good for 15 yards out of five tried by the Longhorns. Seymour intercepted two of Lockney's aeriars.

Actress Saved from Burns by Fast Work Of Film Cameraman

Quick thinking on the part of cameraman Joseph Ruttenberg saved actress Joan Fontaine from severe burns when her dress caught on fire while she was driving to one of the studio's exterior lots for scenes in "Until They Sail," playing Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at the Ferguson Theatre.

With her in the car were Ruttenberg and the actress' make-up man and hair dresser. Someone accidentally dropped a cigarette on Miss Fontaine's dress. Ruttenberg, first to notice the smoke, ordered the car stopped and pushed Miss Fontaine bodily out of the automobile.

The flames burned several holes in the star's dress, but fortunately she was wearing a print dress of pure silk.

Director Robert Wise switched scenes, Miss Fontaine changed into another costume, and the studio wardrobe copied the dress for subsequent filming of the original episodes—sans fire!

REV. SAM J. KING recently has developed a greatly increased appetite for turnips—probably only because he has had a lot of turnips turned up his way. It comes about like this:

One of the members of the County Line Baptist Church, northwest of Rotan, of which he is the pastor, has more than an acre of the tubers in the Brazos River bottoms that have really done well this year.

"They're mighty good eating for pore folks," the preacher will tell you, "and they'll keep a fellow's belt buckle from rubbing his backbone, too."

Preacher King was displaying some of the prize turnips in town, first of the week. He had one that weighed more than eight pounds, and another that balanced the scales at about six pounds. He said his member gardener had turnips of all sizes, and had really made a bountiful crop this year due to the fine rains of the past several months.

ESAU WOOD was particularly particular about the kind of saw he used with which to saw wood, the old story goes. In fact, here's a complete story of the old story:

There was once a man named Esau Wood who liked to saw wood and all the wood Esau Wood saw Esau Wood would saw. Usually Wood would saw wood, but one day Wood's wood saw would saw no wood and thus the wood sawed was not the good wood Wood would saw if Wood's wood saw would saw wood.

So Esau sought a saw that would saw wood. Finally one day Esau saw a saw saw wood as no other wood saw would saw wood. In fact, of all the wood saws Wood saw saw that would saw wood as the wood saw Wood saw saw.

So he bought it.

AFTER-THOUGHTS more than often are better than a quick judgment that most of exercise. Things would be a more pleasant in this old world if we used some thought before we speak or act. To illustrate:

If I thought that a word of mine Perhaps unkind and untrue, Would leave its trace on a loved one's face, I'd never speak it— Would you?

If I thought that a smile of mine Might linger the whole day thru And lighten some heart with a heavier part, I'd not withhold it— Would you?

A HAMLIN WOMAN of undetermined age was consulting an Abilene doctor who had recommended a course of solarium treatments. To dispel her nervousness, the consultant told her:

"Why, a few weeks of that and you'll be 10 years younger."

"Oh, dear," wailed the lady, "it won't affect my pension, will it?"

FIFTY YEARS OF MARRIED BLISS were celebrated Sunday afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Amerson (above) when Mr. and Mrs. John C. Bryant of Hamlin hosted open house at the Amerson home, east of Hamlin. The couple has lived on the same place near Tuxedo the half century. Nearly 300 relatives and friends called at the Amerson home during the open house between 2:00 and 5:00 o'clock Sunday.

FFA Teams Vie for Laurels at Regional

Three Hamlin High School Future Farmers of America leadership teams will go to Big Spring Saturday to vie for places in the Area II competition at Big Spring High School, according to T. C. Blankinship and Harold Eades, local teachers of vocational agriculture.

Ground Observers to Stage Alert Sunday

Another practice alert will be staged Sunday afternoon by the Hamlin chapter of the Ground Observer Corps, it is announced by J. C. Burton Jr., supervisor elected at the last business meeting of the group. The alert will be conducted at the Hamlin Volunteer Fire Department beginning at 1:30 p. m.

There are now 41 members of the GOC unit, which was organized more than a year ago under direction of the fire department. Several new members recently have joined the group, Burton declares.

C. P. Amersons Remember Furnishing Home for $125 After Wedding in 1907

Following celebration of their golden wedding anniversary Sunday at their home east of Hamlin, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Amerson were recalling early this week some of the events and conditions of the earlier times. The couple were as alert and spry as ever, and both agreed that if they had it to do over again they were delighted with the same companions.

C. P. Amerson and Eva Lee Turner were married on December 4, 1907, about three miles from Itasca in Hill County, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Turner. Performing the ceremony was Rev. James A. Ruffner, early day pastor of the Itasca Methodist Church.

Young Amerson had been "keeping company" with Miss Turner for several years back in Hill County. His family had moved to the Tuxedo community in 1902, buying property near the present site of the Amerson home. The elder Amersons paid $10 an acre for their land, which was considered some of the best in this West Texas region.

After helping his folks farm for a few years, he announced his plans to make a home of his own and built a small home for his proposed bride about half a mile west of the present Amerson residence. Then he went back to Itasca and got his bride.

After the ceremony on a Sunday afternoon, the young couple boarded a Texas Central train for Waco where they caught another train bound for Tuxedo. They arrived here about 10:00 o'clock the next day after an all-night train trip. Incidentally there were four passenger trains a day operated between Waco and Rotan 50 years ago, the Amersons recalled, and the railroad did a good business in those days.

The young couple purchased a complete housekeeping outfit for about $125, they recalled, including wood burning stoves and kerosene lamps.

"We've worked side by side all these 50 years," declared Mrs. Amerson, "going to the fields together and sharing the responsibilities of a young family."

The couple lost a daughter, Lorene, at the age of 19 in 1928. They moved to their present home in 1916, which was built by T. E. Shelburne of Hermleigh, who was among attendants at the fiftieth wedding anniversary.

Open House Slated Sunday for First Baptist SS Annex

Open house for the public to visit the new $60,000 educational building of the First Baptist Church has been set for Sunday afternoon, according to the pastor, Rev. Calvin Bailey.

Hours for the open house will be from 3:00 till 5:00 o'clock, during which period members of the congregation will show visitors through the recently completed structure. Complete new furnishings and air conditioning equipment are contained in the new edifice, which is connected to the southeast corner of the church sanctuary.

The two-story brick veneer educational building will provide three assembly and classroom areas for the cradle roll and nursery departments on the first floor. On the second floor are three assembly and 19 classrooms for junior and intermediate departments.

The entire membership of the First Baptist Church welcome all of their friends and neighbors of Hamlin and surrounding communities and towns to tour the building, Bailey says.

Musical Program Will Feature Lions Club Ladies' Night

More than 100 Lions, their wives and invited guests are expected to attend the semi-annual ladies' night banquet of Hamlin Lions Club next Thursday evening at the Primary School cafeteria, club officials announced this week as reservations were being tabulated.

Program Chairman Stan Sheppard is in general charge of the arrangements for the affair, which will feature a Christmas theme in decorations, food and program for the evening. Sheppard will act as toastmaster at the banquet.

An outstanding musical program, featuring Christmas music, will be presented by a group from McMurry College in Abilene under the direction of Dr. Richard Von Ende, had of the music department of the college. Group singing by attendants of Christmas carols also will be featured.

No regular Tuesday noon luncheon meeting of the Hamlin club will be held next week in lieu of the Thursday evening affair, club officials announce.

$113.34 Raised for Hamlin Aid Fund At Union Service

Despite the fact that many Hamlin area people had already left town for various Thanksgiving celebrations elsewhere, a good sized crowd of people attended the union Thanksgiving service conducted last Wednesday evening at the First Baptist Church. The union service is an annual affair sponsored by the Hamlin Ministerial Alliance.

The message of the evening was delivered by Rev. Edmund C. Robb, pastor of the First Methodist Church. Other pastors of the city acted as ushers and took the offering.

The offering, which amounted to $113.34, will be used by the Alliance to help indigent people of the community and transients who ask for assistance. The fund is administered by a committee of business men and representatives from the alliance.

Christmas Lights Go Up in City Last Week

Colored Christmas lights went up in Hamlin last Wednesday in downtown Hamlin. The lights, property of the Hamlin Chamber of Commerce, were put up under the sponsorship of the Business and Professional Women's Club, which has sponsored the project the past two years.

B&PW Club officials point out that the fixtures were repaired and erected with monies collected for that purpose three years ago. Funds are now depleted, they also say.

No Milk Price Drop Seen by Grocers

Grocerymen in Hamlin first of the week declared there was no indication that milk prices would be reduced here in face of reductions that were posted over the week-end in Dallas and Fort Worth.

Most Hamlin stores have been retailing milk at 47 cents per half gallon carton, with one brand selling at about 44 cents.

In Dallas and Fort Worth this week half gallons were selling for 48 cents at retail and gallons at 75 cents.

Plans Reviewed By State Board of Water Engineers

Hamlin civic leaders still have not lost hope that this area will be included in a dam project on the Double Mountain Fork of the Brazos River, north of Hamlin. This hope was expressed this week as further talk of the multiple-purpose dam was being carried further by the Brazos River Valley Authority, with headquarters at Mineral Wells.

Two years ago a committee was named by the Hamlin Chamber of Commerce to investigate feasibility of a dam and lake on the river some 10 or 12 miles northwest of Hamlin. The committee hired Freese & Nichols, engineering firm of Fort Worth, to make surveys, and the concern reported a dam is feasible. Since the demise of the Chamber of Commerce no work has been done toward carrying through. The proposed new Hamlin Board of Community Development is expected to take up the project.

Hamlin Region Farmers to Vote At Farmers Gin

Hamlin area cotton growers, along with those of the rest of the Cotton Belt, will go to the polls next Tuesday to vote on the cotton marketing quota referendum.

Jones County voters have in the past approved the quotas by about 70 per cent. The vote throughout the Cotton Belt has been around 90 per cent each year.

The nation's cotton producers, by their votes in the December 10 cotton marketing quota referendum, will determine whether quota penalties will apply and also the level of price supports for 1958 crop cotton. Therefore, reminds Chairman R. G. Shrauner of the Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, the referendum is of vital concern to every cotton grower.

If at least two-thirds of the votes cast in the referendum favor marketing quotas, the program will be operative for next year's crop, explains Shrauner. Too, price support will be available to growers who comply with their farm allotments for the 1958 crop of upland cotton at a level between 75 and 90 per cent of parity, and quota penalties will apply on any "excess" cotton. If more than one-third of the votes are against quotas, there would be no quota penalties and the price support level to eligible growers would drop to 50 per cent of parity.

The chairman points out that, even if quotas are disapproved, acreage allotments will remain in effect as a means of determining eligibility for price support.

All farmers who were engaged in the production of upland cotton in 1957 will be eligible to vote in the referendum, and Shrauner urges them to do so. He also says that if growers have questions they would like answered, they should visit the ASC office in their county.

Polling place for the Hamlin area farmers in Jones County will be at the Hamlin Farmers Cooperative Gin in the southeast part of town.

Three Baptized After Central Baptist Meet

Three new members were baptized at the conclusion of revival services that were concluded last Sunday evening at the North Central Avenue Baptist Church, reports Rev. Woodrow McHugh, the pastor. Two other members were received by letter.

Doing the preaching in the eight-day series of revival services was Rev. Jake Armstrong, pastor of the Hawley Baptist Church. Rev. Armstrong previously was pastor of the McCauley Baptist Church.

Farm Bureau Convention Approves Resolution Asking Stop of Regulation

Delegates to the Texas Farm Bureau convention November 17 to 20 in Dallas approved a resolution calling for the gradual elimination of governmental regulation of individual farming operations.

The sessions, held at Dallas, were attended by five representatives from Jones County, including C. E. Gregory and wife of Hamlin.

New officers elected included J. H. (Harrell) West of Bishop, president, replacing J. Walter Hammond of Tye. C. H. DeVaney of Coahoma was named to the vice presidency vacated by West. Edwin Sanderson of Paris was elected secretary-treasurer, replacing Loys D. Barbour of Iowa Park. New directors voted in by delegates included D. M. Womble of Morse, Glenn Mettewer of Chillico and A. C. Machemehl of Bellville.

In their business session the 609 voting delegates from 140 counties approved a recommendation to the national convention on cotton which would give growers a choice in the annual referenda of the following: (1) 75 per cent of parity supports and 20 per cent more acreage; (2) present acreage and 90 per cent of parity; and (3) no acreage restrictions, no price supports.

The delegates, by their actions, said the principles of the soil bank are sound, but that the present soil bank program does not accomplish its full intent. They called for a total acreage retirement program under which the percentage of cropland retired would be determined by the percentage of overall over-production of all farm commodities.

In the field of research, the voting delegates called for research to be directed toward (1) industrial uses of agricultural commodities; (2) expansion of markets by promoting better nutrition; (3) lowering production and marketing costs; (4) improving quality of agricultural products.

We have been amused and a little concerned about the apparent apprehension of many American people over the propaganda that is being syphoned into this country by the Russians over their satellite countries.

To be sure, there is credence to the progress the Russians are making in their experiments with rockets and missiles. But somehow we have felt secure to a degree in the knowledge that American scientists have perfected a lot more in this field than they let on—that is the American way. That is the way it has been in the past. For example, who knew the progress that we had made on the super bombs that were dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki? We just don't ballyhoo our work in this line.

But millions of folks are falling for all the boasts and claims of the Russians propaganda machine—just like the Russians want us to. They want us to be jittery and apprehensive. That is one of their chief weapons in the cold war. And when the newspapers and news analysts spread the propaganda they are doing the Russians' bidding.

There are those who say that if the United States is to regain lost prestige as a leader in the space flight age, it should be the first country to put a manned satellite into the sky.

But American astronauts will have to be quick with their rockets to do so for there are many indications that this is one of follow-up projects on which Soviet astronauts, whose skill launched the sputnik, now are working.

Thus, for example, a recent article in the newspaper Soviet Russia reported that Soviet natural scientists are working on a special parachute by which space satellite passengers could return to earth.

As reported by Reuters, the article quoted natural scientist Nicolai Lobanov as saying that experiments with dogs that have been sent more than 100 miles high have shown that the hermetically sealed nose cabin of a rocket could fall freely from about 60 miles altitude to about two miles before its parachute was opened. From there on down to the ground the parachute apparently protected the dog drop and a safe landing. There have been other reports of Soviet experiments with dog carrying rockets which reported no injury or bad after-effects to the dogs.

It is a long step from animal flights to the entry of man into the world of space. But these animal experiments show the interest that the Soviet Union has in mastering this next stage of the conquest of space.

American astronomical scientists are interested in mastering this stage, too. Monkeys have been flown in a rocket and safely recovered. Mice and such small animals have been flown in balloons. There have also been a number of tests with men who have undergone tremendous accelerations and moments of weightlessness.

The Buile Corporation of Stamford has been appointed Studebaker-Packard dealer for this area, Sidney Skillman, sales manager, announced this week from South Bend, Indiana.

Buile's has been located in Stamford for some 30 years, and Bernard Buile says, "We are attracted to the new Studebaker, not only by its years of service and customer satisfaction, but by its new Scotsman, which in a standard wheelbase, with directional signals and a heater delivers to the user at Stamford for $1,895. New car prices have been too high and we feel this new 1958 Studebaker will be readily accepted."

Highlight of the opening of this Buile agency will be the showing of the new Scotsman in two and four-door sedans and station wagons. The efful line includes Studebaker President, Commander and Champion series, a new line of trucks and the new Packard automobiles.

Buile's has complete service facilities and will carry a full stock of authorized factory parts and accessories. The service staff has had instruction from company representatives in latest service procedures.

Buile's coverage on Studebaker extends over Jones, Haskell and Stonewall Counties.

including many multiple-purpose reservoirs, has been reviewed before the State Board of Water Engineers by the BRA. Multiple-purpose dams are those that provide flood control, water conservation, sometimes power generation and almost always recreation and other benefits.

The report filed with the state board—at one of a series of meetings the board has been holding with river authorities—is actually a summary of the Brazos River Authority's master plan for development of the Brazos and its tributaries, brought up-to-date. It contains elements of the river's over-all development plan conceived since the original master plan was approved by the Board of Water Engineers in 1935.

"Since the original master plan was devised," the authority's statement said in explaining the need for this new summary, "many additional basic data have been obtained, and the authority has caused extensive engineering studies to be made of potentials of both the original and additional projects.

"Further, the state's economic development and population have increased in the 22 years since the original report, and also the federal government assumed flood control obligations in 1936. Today water conservation is just as important as flood control in the current master plan, if not more so.

"The authority believes that this plan takes full advantage of the topography of the watershed by placing the necessary projects at the most practical and economical locations."

The summary listed 23 projects in the up-dated master plan. Three of these projects already are in operation — Possum Kingdom, Whitney and Belton. However, including planned elevation of the dam at Possum Kingdom, there still remain 21 potential building sites. But the authority pointed

Marking of Mackenzie Trail, Which Once Crossed This Section, Started

Proper marking with a series of monuments of the old Mackenzie Trail that traversed this section of West Texas is being begun by the Mackenzie Trail Memorial Association. It is announced by Bernard Buie, official of the organization.

First of the monuments will soon be placed in southern Haskell County, just north of Stamford at the intersection of U. S. Highways 277 and 380. Buie declares in a release to The Herald.

Old Reynolds City, some 10 miles northeast of Hamlin, was a main point on and a buffalo hide depot on the Mackenzie Trail. It was on the late Pringle Moore Ranch.

During the past session of the Texas Legislature a resolution was passed by both houses of the legislature. The legislation was handled by Representatives Moyné Kelly, Ed Cloud and Bob Patterson and Senators David Ratliff and Charles Moffett, all of whose districts are crossed or touched by the Mackenzie Trail.

The resolution, which contains considerable historical information, follows:

Whereas, General Randall Silldell Mackenzie, a United States Cavalry officer, blazed a trail through Northwest Texas between 1871 and 1876 in a series of campaigns which removed warring bands of Indians from Texas; and

Whereas, the exploits of General Mackenzie in the vicinity of Tule and Palo Duro and Blanco Canyons represent the last major Indian fights in the Lone Star state; and

Whereas, following the path first taken by General Mackenzie in pursuit of Kiowa and Comanche Indians, courageous early settlers and cattlemen soon were able to turn the Texas plains into productive farms and ranches; and

Whereas, the Mackenzie Trail, which once was as famous as the Chisholm Trail and the Butterfield Stage Route, should be remembered by all modern Texans; and

Whereas, to commemorate the signal accomplishments of General Mackenzie and the courageous men and women who followed his route, the public spirited citizens of Haskell County, Jones County, Dickens County, Crosby County and other counties in West Texas are engaged in organizing the Mackenzie Trail Memorial Association; and

Whereas, organizers of the Mackenzie Trail Memorial Association have secured the permission of the Texas Highway Department to erect a marker, at no cost to the state, near the intersection of U. S. Highways 277 and 380 in Haskell County; and

Whereas, the placing of additional markers is planned in the future at other points along the Mackenzie Trail by the association; and

Whereas, the Mackenzie Trail Memorial Association is coordinating its efforts with the Texas Highway Department, the Texas State Historical Survey Committee, and the West Texas Historical Association; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, by the Texas House of Representatives, the Senate concurring, that congratulations are hereby extended to the members and supporters of the Mackenzie Trail Memorial Association; and be it further

Resolved, that this effort to perpetuate the memory of a significant part of Texas' colorful history is considered highly commendable.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Amersons Honored At Open House on Golden Anniversary

Nearly 300 relatives and friends Sunday registered at the fiftieth wedding anniversary celebration of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Amerson Sunday afternoon despite the fact that many more were out of the territory for the Thanksgiving week-end.

The open house for the pioneer couple was held at the home east of Hamlin, with Mr. and Mrs. John C. Bryant of Hamlin acting as hosts for the occasion. Mrs. Bryant is an only child of the couple.

The Amerson home was appropriately decorated for the fiftieth anniversary with many reminders of the period when the couple became man and wife. In the receiving line were Mrs. Guy White of Killeen, Mrs. John C. Bryant, Mrs. Amerson, John C. Bryant and the Bryant's daughter, Cindy.

Mrs. Amerson was dressed in a cadet blue satin brocade dress with blue jewelry imported from France.

In the dining room were Mrs. E. A. Reed of Vernon, Mrs. Hubert Westfall of Eastland, May Gay of Hamlin, Charlene White of Killeen and Betty Westfall of Abilene.

Directing guests to the register in the bedroom were Hubert Westfall of Eastland, Guy White of Killeen, Mrs. R. B. Bryant of Hamlin, and Mrs. J. F. Compton of Hamlin. Mrs. Compton is a daughter of Mrs. Amerson.

B. Bryant of Hamlin and

Dr. E. A. Reed of Vernon said the good-byes.

The serving table was laid with a Madiera cut cloth over a yellow table cloth. Center of attention on the table was an antique horse and buggy gilded in gold that held a miniature bride and groom. The bride wore an exact replica of Mrs. Amerson's wedding dress of 50 years ago. The original dress was displayed on a form in the room.

From the coffee table punch, cake squares and nuts were served to attendants. On this table was one of the original wedding invitations.

On another coffee table were a pair of ladies' high top shoes that were in style 50 years ago that had been gilded. Yellow chrysanthemums also decorated the table and other portions of the Amerson home. Another arrangement of flowers was on the desk in the back bedroom at the registry, where a miniature 1907 Ford and kerosene lamp furnished a timely setting.

Many flowers, cards and telegrams were sent to the honorees. Attendees registered from Itasca, Hillsboro, Fort Worth, Eastland, Killeen, Vernon, Sweetwater, Abilene, Wichita Falls, Hermleigh, Ballinger, Morton, Winters, San Angelo and Albany, Texas; Syracuse, New York; Lovington, Albuquerque and Hobbs, New Mexico.

Another story about some highlights of the Amerson marriage and early times is found on page one of today's Herald.

Nathan Adams, state chairman, Ed Gossett, state co-chairman, the U. S. savings bonds committee for Texas, announced today that $14,236,015 in Series E and savings bonds were purchased during October in Texas.

The total amount of these savings bonds purchased during the month period is $141,725,997," Ed Gossett said. "In order to reach the state's goal for the year, another $31,074,003 in savings bonds must be purchased during November and December. We feel confident that Texas will make the 1957 goal, for Christmas shopping traditionally begins the day after Thanksgiving and numerous bonds will be purchased for gifts. We are ready for these Christmas gift shoppers this year with a new, streamlined, if not jet propelled Series E savings bond, and a new gift envelope to fit its smaller size. The envelope bears the label that is now traditional for savings bonds: 'The Gift that Keeps on Giving.' On the reverse side is a space for an inscription: 'To _____ from _____.' And the slogan: 'A Gift Today for a Bright Tomorrow.' These new envelopes may be secured from local banks at the time the gift bonds are purchased," he added.

Bond sales in Jones County for the 10-month period amounted to $390,812. This is 65 per cent of the 1957 goal, according to A. C. Humphrey of Stamford, chairman of Jones County sales.

Humphrey pointed out that savings bonds are equally suitable and welcome as gifts for any occasion, from the birth of a child through successive birthdays, graduation and wedding anniversaries, as well as for Christmas and year-end bonuses, incentive and performance awards—"anything" that calls for a "Present with a Future," Humphrey advised.

License and Weight Fees Add to State And County Funds

More than a million and a half dollars was added to county and state treasuries last year as a result of the activities of the license and weight division of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

The division's annual report for the fiscal year ending August 31 shows that $1,675,370 was collected in fines and additional registration fees and paid into state and county coffers as a result of cases filed during the fiscal year for violations of Texas trucking laws.

A larger percentage of the money, assessed in 27,695 cases filed by the license and weight division against truck operators, went into road and bridge funds of the various counties throughout Texas.

Violations include such items as trucks and equipment being over the maximum size allowed by law, over-loaded trucks, traffic violations and truck registration violations. Most of the laws affecting truckers is directed at protecting Texas highway and motorists on our highways.

Largest number of cases filed was 5,483 for over gross weight; 5,046 cases were filed for failure to have a Texas Railroad Commission permit. This was opposite the situation for the preceding year when failure to have railroad commission permits was the No. 1 violation.

Crops in Santa Fe Areas Suffer Because Of Wet Weather

Picking of cotton, harvest of sorghum and digging of peanuts have all been delayed because of the damp weather during much of the last month, observes the monthly crop condition report of the Santa Fe Railway System for Texas.

Losses from freezing temperatures early in November may be heavy in late fields on the High Plains, and damage to cotton already open is showing up in lowered quality. Soft ground and high moisture content have kept combines idle much of the time since the grain sorghum crop matured. A few farmers are reporting damage to peanuts not dug because of sprouting.

Wheat continues excellent progress in all producing territories.

Seymour Will Meet McCamey Saturday

Seymour High School Panthers, winners of the football championship of District 4-AA, won their second round of the Class AA play-off Friday afternoon at Snyder when they trounced the Lockney crew 27 to 6.

The Panthers will meet McCamey next Saturday at Seymour at 2:00 o'clock. Several Hamlin area fans are expected to be in the stands at game time.

... where friendship is more than frogskin deep

It Pays to Buy Where You Live!

Friendship and Business

IT'S no strain for any business man ... city or home-town ... to be friendly when he sees you coming with money to spend.

Some of us ... a little cynical, perhaps, about the way we're often greeted with a synthetic and profit-prompted friendliness when we act like a customer in some strange store ... may conclude that business and real friendship will never mix. But they will. And they do ... every day, in thousands of small towns like ours.

Knowing each other outside our places of business, working together for community improvement, in churches, schools and other groups, sharing the community load, helping each other in time of trouble ... makes it inevitable that each of us can better and more understandingly serve the other in business.

Of all the business establishments in the world—only those in Hamlin are sincerely interested in the future of Hamlin and in the future of YOU who live here ...

"IT WAS A NICE TRY, BUT..." seems to sum up public opinion about competitive cars attempting to equal the styling and features of the Swept-Wing 58. They tried to get as low, but had to lower the roof to do it. (Less headroom, same high, boxy, cooped-up look.) Their windshields got smaller, while ours got bigger. Most of them still don't have Total-Contact Brakes to assure smooth, even, safe stops when needed. Nor do they offer push-button TorqueFlite, the proven automatic transmission, and Constant-Control power steering that works full time—not part time as some other systems do. And Dodge no-sway, no-dip Torsion-Aire is standard equipment. (Bus-type air springs offered by some cars cost well over $100.00 extra.) So compare all the 1958 models with Dodge. We think you'll agree: Other cars are catching on, but they can't catch up.

Seymour Stays in Grid Race With Lockney Win 27-6

Fullback Eddie Syptak turned Seymour's first play of the game into a 56-yard scoring scamper and the Panthers, District 4-AA champions, never lost their lead as they handed the Lockney Longhorns a 27 to 6 defeat last Friday afternoon at Snyder.

Seymour will play McCamey Saturday afternoon in the state quarter-finals at Seymour. Game time will be 2:30 o'clock.

After the extra point was booted by Halfback Larry Martin, Lockney came back strong to score a touchdown to make the quarter end with the score at 7 to 6.

The Longhorns were unable to score any more the balance of the game. Seymour managed to put over three more touchdowns and missed only one extra point.

Seymour received the second half kick-off and pushed 65 yards in 19 plays to score another six-pointer. Billy Ryan made the last nine yards for the touchdown, dragging a Lockney tackler the last 10 feet.

With less than five minutes left in the game Seymour ran over two more touchdowns for good measure and both the extra points were booted by Martin.

Statistically Seymour outclassed Lockney. The Panthers made 13 first downs to six for the Longhorns. Seymour made 214 yards rushing to 133 for Lockney, and completed four of nine passes for 61 yards to one pass good for 15 yards out of five tried by the Longhorns. Seymour intercepted two of Lockney's aerials.

Actress Saved from Burns by Fast Work Of Film Cameraman

Quick thinking on the part of cameraman Joseph Ruttenberg saved actress Joan Fontaine from severe burns when her dress caught on fire while she was diving into one of the studio's exterior lots for scenes in "Until They Sail," playing Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at the Ferguson Theater.

With her in the car were Ruttenberg and the actress' make-up man and hair dresser. Someone accidentally dropped a cigarette on Miss Fontaine's dress. Ruttenberg, first to notice the smoke, ordered the car stopped and pushed Miss Fontaine bodily out of the automobile.

The flames burned several holes in the star's dress, but fortunately she was wearing a print dress of pure silk.

Director Robert Wise switched scenes, Miss Fontaine changed into another costume, and the studio wardrobe copied the dress for subsequent filming of the original episodes—sans fire!
